G'day mate,

Sorry a bit tardy of me however I have two for you, as John indicated he sent you the wet one.

Sunday 6th January "New Year get together," six of us took off on a quite warm morning, Fish dropped off early in the ride, the rest of us carried on and made an early retreat for the air conditioning. A few nonstarters at the restaurant, said our goodbyes. Short ride from La Maison out to Bethanga round the Bay Road Talgarno back over the bridge and home.

Sunday 20th January 8 bikes departed La Maison Roy and Kay were 2 up on the "248cc Beesa", had a great ride out on warm but pleasant morning, rode across Bellbridge around the Bay Road through Bethanga and this time turned right a Talgarno, heading for Granya and Bullioh arriving at the Koetong Pub for lunch.

It's always a great ride, and the new people served us up a nice lunch. Day was warming up so we headed home to cool off. Roy insists this beesa is bog stock standard.

Good Bikes, good People, good food and great rides.

Cheers from your ride committee.

*Ride report for Club ride Sunday 10 February.

The day dawned fine and warm and was going to be hotter. The planned ride on the Old Pacific Highway was modified to take out the ride through West Gosford ( Manns Road) to the Yarramalong Valley because of the days temperature and the amount of traffic lights. Instead we rode the Old Road to Calga then onto Peats Ridge for morning tea at the Corrugated Café.

A good turnout, given the warm day, sixteen bikes....Fourteen Classics and two Moderns. I had organised "Bikephoto" to be around somewhere on the Old Road, to take professional pics of our intrepid riders and he was on a left hand corner going up Mt White snapping away. When the pictures come through, I will contact the riders and arrange for them to purchase the shots if they wish.

After morning tea, some riders elected to head home the way we had come, others went back via the Spencer Road to Wisemans Ferry and then home.

Until the next ride, Cheers
Paul Higgins

AN IRISH GHOST STORY

This story happened a while ago in Dublin, and even though it sounds like an Alfred Hitchcock tale, it is true.

John Bradford a? Dublin? University student was on the side of the road hitchhiking on a very dark night and in the midst of a big storm.

The night was rolling on and no car went by. The storm was so strong he could hardly see a few feet ahead of him?.

Suddenly, he saw a car slowly coming towards him and stopped.

John desperate for shelter and without thinking about it, got into the car and closed the door..... only to realise there was nobody behind the wheel and the engine wasn't on. The car started moving slowly. John looked at the road ahead and saw a curve approaching. Scared, he started to pray, begging for his life. Then just before the car hit the curve, a hand appeared out of nowhere through the window and turned the wheel. John. Paralysed with terror, watched as the hand came through the window, but never touched or harmed him.

Shortly thereafter. John, saw the lights of a pub appear down the road, so, gathering strength: he jumped out of the car and ran to it. Wet and out of breath, he rushed inside and started telling everybody about the horrible experience he had just had.

A silence enveloped the pub when everybody realised he wasn't drunk. Suddenly the door opened, and two other people walked in from the dark stormy night. They, like John, were also soaked and out of breath. Looking around, and seeing John Bradford sobbing at the bar, one said to the other.....?

Look Paddy.... There's that fooking idiot got into the car while we were pushing it!!!!!!!

A CATHOLIC COFFEE MORNING IN ROME

Four Catholic men and a Catholic woman were having coffee in St. Peters Square.

The first Catholic man tells his friends, "My son is a priest. When he walks into a room, everyone calls him 'Father'."

The second Catholic man chirps, "My son is a bishop. When he walks into a room people call him 'Your Grace'."

The third Catholic gent says, "My son is a Cardinal. When he enters a room everyone bows their head and says 'Your Eminence'."

The fourth Catholic man says very proudly, "My son is the Pope. When he walks into a room people call him 'Your Holiness'."

Since the lone Catholic woman was sipping her coffee in silence, the four men give her a subtle, "Well... ?"

She proudly replies, "I have a daughter,

EVERY BIKE HAS A STORY TO TELL – THE THUNDERBIRD'S TALE

I was buoyed by the positive feedback from my story of the Triumph GP replica, enough to tell the story of another bike in the shed. Perhaps I can inspire others in the club to tell the tale of their pride and joy.

This time its the turn of my trusty but far from standard rigid Triumph Thunderbird, a mongrel of the highest order with parts from 1950 through 1956.

My story of this bike starts around 1981 when I responded to an advert in the paper for an Ariel Huntmaster (remember before the internet when we had the bulk of the adverts in the Saturday papers or the Trading Post?). It was located in Lithgow and I took the wife on my bike at the time a Kawasaki Z750 to see the bike. I have to say our reaction to the Huntmaster was underwhelming, I didn't like the style or the amount of rust. But all was not lost as the vendor had a heap of bikes and parts and offered to put together the bones of a Triumph 650 for around $400. At the time I was a 23 year old with no knowledge of old bikes. I didn't know if this was a good deal but I knew I liked the look of the Triumphs I had seen and wanted one of them. A pile of parts was extracted from the shed, laid out on the lawn and deal was done. I would come back next week with a trailer and the money. I have to admit at the time I had little knowledge of whether this was a complete bike in bits or only half of a bike.

Next week I collected the trailer load of Triumph parts and headed home, all bright eyed and keen, little realising what I had got myself into or how long this obsession would last. The most mechanical thing I had done to this stage was decoke a 2 stroke Yamaha.

First step for me was to get a manual and see what was missing. On checking what I had bought I realised the deal was quite good with most of the bike there and some duplicate parts included. Missing were of course the speedo and the generator, some of the mudguard stays and the rear stand and the tank flashes. Most of the parts supplied were usable, could be refurbished or used as patterns, but even then there was still quite a lot of bits to be sourced Being new to the game and having little cash to spare, I went about doing what I could to get it going, the paint for the tank and guards was done by a friend of the brother in law and is still on the bike to this day ( its now a bit knocked about but shows some history), I didn't fancy the Thunderbird blue, but liked the silver and black of the Tiger 100, so silver it would be. It was painted with the leftovers from a BMW car job at the smash repairers. The black stripe over the top of the tank was the painters idea as he could not seem to get a good finish in silver on that section, I quite like the way it looks.

The motor as it turned out was a bit of a hotrod with a big bearing crank (very unusual with a generator motor), 3134 cams, the later T110 head with big valves and a big monobloc carby. It went back together this way with a rebore to + 0.040 and a set of diecut Y alloy 8 to 1 pistons (more on them later).

This bike was a bit of a family affair with the father in law sourcing as a foreign order a new cam ring for the manual advance magneto and having some other parts made in the Sunbeam/Victa factory during the night shift. My father helped in repairing the seat and hand making the cover in Kangaroo leather. This seat has made its way to the T100 GP as its a smaller saddle. The brother in law organised the paint.

At the time I didn't know about swap meets and as I worked just near All Parts on Regent Street Redfern I spent many a lunchtime talking with Joe Kadar and spending more than I could afford on parts to complete the bike. I also remember buying a speedo from a wrecker in Liverpool – Adams I think, its long gone now anyway.

The bike slowly came together with me painting the black bits - frame, fittings and nacelle etc with paint from spray cans – rough I have to admit. I built up the motor with the help of my Haynes manual (my first rebuild) Eventually the motor was fitted to the frame and started, first up the timing was out by 180 degrees, the plug leads were swapped and it started and ran for a few seconds. Next up start, it backfired and caught fire, fortunately I didn't have the real tank or other bodywork fitted and was able to put out the fire quickly, the damaged paint and blackened wiring stayed on the bike until recently. After putting out the fire and stopping the leaks it was ready to run properly. A few trips around the block confirmed it would run and stop to a satisfactory level. Somewhere along the line I must have thought that a sidecar would be a good idea and I found a rough little Westcar sidecar(meant for 250cc bikes), this was tidied up a bit and fitted by the guy that built it. The bike actually handled a treat, but I was always dark on the guy for welding the front mount to the frame downtube.

Eventually it was time to get it registered and I set off to Blacktown registry, I only got 3/4 of the way there when the diecut Y alloy pistons did their thing and it first nipped up slowing dramatically but not catastrophically. I got there and back with several stops to allow it to cool down. After pulling the head and barrel off I was off to All Parts to see what they had available as a solution. Eventually it was decided that the best solution was a new set of barrels and Hepolite pistons, they only had 9.5 to 1 pistons in stock so it became an even hotter motor.

The next time I went to start the bike, the magneto failed, apparently old magnetos will often work until they get properly hot and then cooled at which point they fail. I had the then club member, Kevin Hodges send the magneto to his friend for reconditioning with the message that it wasn't real urgent. Some 6 to 9 months later I had to pester him to get the magneto back, but it did give faultless service for many years.

I had the bike geared way down for the sidecar, but it probably didn't really need to be and this became apparent on a run to Jenolan Caves where it broke a pushrod at about Katoomba, probably from over revving on the motorway earlier. This breakage was potentially a show stopper but with a little help and advice I removed the broken pushrod and rode home on one cylinder with Maureen in the sidecar. After replacing the pushrod and changing the gearing to only one tooth less than solo gearing this was how the bike stayed for many years and many club runs until the sidecar was taken off.

Maureen learned how to ride a bike on the Thunderbird with sidecar and we spend a bit of time around the area we now live with her learning the controls as it was a very quiet rural area. She also later rode it in solo form.

The bike saw regular runs with rides, rallies, offroad club days at Arcadia, hillclimbs at Amaroo Park even acting once as wedding transport. At some stage it was taken off full rego and put on club plates to save on the ridiculous rego costs. It travelled fast and loud for around 10,000 miles until around 1996 when it was rebored and had new 8.5 to 1 pistons fitted. It did a number of club runs but after a year or 2 and with rego coming due it was getting a bit tired with things like the speedo beginning to play up, the forks really needed an overhaul, the rubber bits all needed replacing, so with all good intentions to fix it soon the plates were handed in and it was retired to the back of the shed, the last rego sticker showing 1997.

There it sat slowly rusting as other bikes came and went, our family expanded with Alex born in 1998 and other projects taking precedence.

Finally I finished the T100 GP replica and looked around the shed to see the rust taking over the Thunderbird and realised it was time to give it some attention.

This was going to be a mainly cosmetic update leaving the motor and gearbox alone.

So there were new fork tubes and bushes sourced and fitted.

Peter Boros did a brilliant job in restoring the Chronometric speedometer.

Better switches and a proper Lucas ammeter were found in the shed and were fitted.

Alloy rims to replace the very rusty steel items were bought from England and I laced up the wheels. I had a little trouble with the back wheel, I had not realised that there can be different patterns, the spokes supplied were for 3 crossover while the pattern I was copying was 4 crossover (stronger perhaps?) and I had to go back to the suppliers to sort this out when the spokes just didn't seem long enough. That sorted it was not too much of a problem to lace with the 3 crossover pattern and the spokes supplied.

The standard 7" front brake was changed to an 8" 1955 T100 brake – the cool looking one with the air scoop. Any better – who knows but it looks way cool.

The non functioning generator was replaced with a tacho drive and a chronometric tacho fitted beside the nacelle (This is after all a non standard bike and the generator and regulator only worked for a short time when first done up so I have run a total loss electrical system since).

The frame and fittings were wire brushed, scraped and sanded back by hand before brush painting with POR 15 paint

The nacelle, toolbox and oil tank were all sanded back before being sent to be professionally painted, thankfully Maureen works part time at a smash repair shop.

The many rusty nuts and bolts were wire brushed and nickel plated with a home plating kit.

The chrome parts were polished to remove the rust spots as best I could, keeping the "oh so loud" megaphone mufflers.

A new saddle was fitted as the old one has pride of place on the GP replica.

Proper rear mudguard stays replaced the bits of flat steel I had installed all those years ago as I couldn't source the correct items.

A Triumph chain guard replaced the chrome accessory item I had fitted and a Triumph toolbox replaced the BSA item I had previously.

I rewired the electrics, now a bit simpler without the generator and regulator. At some point I had bought a good crimping tool and with plain brass connectors from Dick Smiths (they don't sell these any more, but you can still source them from the internet) and professional looking covers you can achieve a good connection that looks good too.

The bike was known for its mascot of an imp "thumbing his nose" on the front mudguard, he was polished and returned to where he has stood sentinel for all those years.

Complete now, its not pristine but is much better and prettier than it was and will soon be back on the road on club plates.

As you can see from the story, there were a lot of "learning" experiences in building the bike, such as,

Do some research before buying a bike (I was lucky)

Make sure you define what "not urgent" means when sending out work,

Always have the magneto seen to before you fit it,

Never use diecut Y alloy pistons, they are not known as Anthony Hordern pistons for nothing (Those among you old enough will know the store's motto "while I live I'll grow")

Lucas electrical equipment only ever works for short periods,

Make use of the people around you for connections to others for getting things done,

You can do much of the work yourself but realise your limitations

I am rubbish at spray painting always have been always will be, so leave that to the professionals.

So there you have it, the first bike I built up and it would be the last bike I would sell is about to be seen on the road again.

Does your bike have a tale to tell, give it a voice and let us share the story.

Three Aussie blokes working up on an outback mobile phone tower: Mongrel, Coot and Bluey .

As they start their descent, Coot slips, falls off the tower and is killed instantly..

As the ambulance takes the body away, Bluey says, 'Well, bugger me, someone's gotta go and tell Coot's wife.

Mongrel says, 'OK, I'm pretty good at that sensitive stuff, I'll do it.' Two hours later, he comes back carrying a case of Beer.

Bluey says, 'Where'd you get the grog, Mongrel?' 'Coot's wife gave it to me,' Mongrel replies.

'That's unbelievable, you told the Missus her husband was dead and she gave you a case of beer?'

'Well, not exactly', Mongrel says.

'When she answered the door, I said to her, "you must be Coot's widow." She said, "You must be mistaken.. I'm not a widow.'

Then I said, 'I'll betcha a case of beer you are..'

Arthritis

One day, a drunk that smelled like a brewery got on a bus and sat down right next to a priest.

The drunk's shirt was stained, his face was covered with bright red lipstick smears and he had a half empty bottle of cheap wine sticking out of his pocket.

He opened his newspaper and started reading..... a couple of minutes later he leaned over to the priest and asked; "Father, what causes arthritis?"

The priest pondered for a moment then in a most solemn and stern voice replied: "My son, it is caused by loose living, lying with cheap wicked women, too much alcohol and contempt for your fellow man."

"Well I'll be damned!!", the drunk muttered and returned studiously to his newspaper.

The priest, thinking about what he had said and out of Christian charity, turned to the drunk and apologised; "I'm sorry son; I did not mean to come on so strong, how long have you had arthritis?"

"I don't father! I was just reading in the paper that the Pope has been diagnosed with arthritis."

January Tortoise Run – Illawarra.

An impending Saturday afternoon run on 19th January saw rain falling on A.M.C. Corner at 12pm, and the outlook looked distinctly unpromising. But by 2pm – with the roads dried up – a dozen riders gathered on the forecourt of Key Batteries, which is probably half the number that has been normal attendance over the past few Saturday afternoon runs. The odd drop of rain fell on the riders as they left at 2pm, but undeterred the enthusiastic dozen – quite a number of whom were riding small engine sized machines, (as are very well suited to this type of low-key event), set off for the northward directional run along the close-to-the-beach roads! A late comer appeared at A.M.C. Corner at 2.30pm armed with a very plausible alibi, (he had to assist in a rescue operation for his better-half's car?), and he was able to belatedly join the group for afternoon tea at the Bulli Beach Kiosk. Again, for this Saturday afternoons short event that is mainly centred on the flatlands of the Illawarra coast, a reasonable turnout was a dozen, but these outings are primarily targeted at the small size, the much older, and the seldom seen machines that are undoubtedly historic plated among classic club members, but are seldom seen out and about on club runs.

Illawarra Club Run January.

Sunday 20th January saw the club run to Shoalhaven Heads via Berry for lunch and once again a dozen riders gathered at Key Batteries for the 10am start. A further four riders joined the run at the Dunmore Lay by so that made twenty four attending over the weekend which – for January and the early outings of 2013 was probably not too bad an outcome. Good to see the Brothers Grimm, (sorry Noel and Gary), in attendance on both days – well done – and the outings gave an opportunity to use two different styles of bike. The run was completed with no machine dramas which always makes for a pleasing outcome, and hopefully is a premature indication that the events of the next twelve months will have a very good support and results for the Illawarra Branch.

Illawarra Mid-Week run February.

February 6th saw a gathering of fourteen riders at Key Batteries for the proposed run to Bundanoon on a day when the weather did not appear likely to provide any problems on the rain front. For the second month in a row, the incumbent at A.M.C. Corner completely forgot about the event, and did not provide an appearance to count the riders and ensure all were able to get mobile from the Mt Keira Rd start. However for the second month Barry Ryan was on hand to wave them off, so maybe he will get this task – permanently? As the day progressed, more riders joined in at various locations, and a total of around the thirty mark would have been involved over the days outing which is a good turnout for the mid-week event. Great to see Joanne Dickie piloting the B.M.W. Sidecar on these tablelands runs, whilst in February John Harman took the 175 Bantam up the Macquarie Pass test course for the first time in a long period, (maybe to celebrate getting his OBE, (over bloody eighty), and a rumour has it that Peter Jones – long time Velo enthusiast and latterly having joined the large scooter brigade – has also passed the four score milestone. Well done to both, as a lot of old motorcyclists don't attain this height! As a matter of interest the Pope has just resigned his position and the incumbent at A.M.C. Corner has had an offer to be the replacement, however as he couldn't run the show from the garage at 33 Mt Keira Rd, he had to sadly decline. Such is the fleeting passage of fame???

MISSING MOTORCYCLES

My name is Brenley Jarrett, I am one of the eldest nephews of the later Roger Barker. Roger was an accomplished motor cycle rider through the 1950's and has feature in quite a number of motor cycle magazines in Australia and Europe.

Roger was unfortunately killed in a racing accident on the 7th July 1957 behind the iron curtain in East Germany. His two Manx Norton motor cycles were eventually sent back to Australia by Norton in England to Disney Motors (Melbourne) and were consigned to Roger Barker. My late Uncle Aubrey (Roger's brother), my brother Tony and I have been trying to find out what happened to the two bikes after they arrived back in Australia in order for us to complete the story of Roger's life and adventures.

Unfortunately we have been unable to locate these bikes and would really like to know if anyone has any information about these bikes or their whereabouts. We have quite a lot of Photos and information on Roger and the story of him which we will share if desired.

The engine numbers of the two Manx Norton's are the 500cc M11M72708 and the 350cc M10M72713.

Jack Walters may have taken possession of these bikes because he had at a previous stage financed Roger into another motor cycle.

A psychiatrist was conducting a group therapy session with five young mothers and their small children.

'You all have obsessions,' he observed.

To the first mother, Mary, he said, 'You are obsessed with eating. You've even named your daughter Candy.'

He turned to the second Mum, Ann: 'Your obsession is with money. It manifests itself in your children's names, Penny, Goldie and Frank.'

He turned to the third Mum, Joyce: 'Your obsession is alcohol. This too shows itself in your children's names: Brandy and Sherry. You even called the cat, "Whisky"

He then turned to the fourth Mum June: "Your obsession is with flowers. Your girls are called Rose, Daphne & Poppy.

At this point, the fifth mother, Kathy, quietly got up, took her little boy by the hand and whispered..... 'Come on, Dick, this guy has no idea what he's talking about. Let's go pick up Fanny and Willy and go home.'

1947 Models of car and bike are apparently recognised as the last year of the vintage designation so here is the opportunity to start with a 1947 Matchless motor, and build up a vintage machine in the competition style mode. The crankcases are stamped 47/G3I 428C and are of the reinforced rib type. A new alloy barrel and new piston, (never been fired up), leads up to an ultra-rare bronze head with polished rocker box and timing cover. Also a brass separate float bowl carb is fitted, and a Lucas N1C competition magneto completes the entourage. Now that's a good start to a life in the "compo" lane! If required a rigid frame with forks, wheels, gearbox, engine plates, oil and petrol tanks, primary covers and generator could also be supplied, so if you wish to submit an expression of interest for all or part thereof please feel free to do so. Ph

Pfizer Corporation announced today that Viagra will soon be available in liquid form, and will be marketed by Pepsi Cola as a power beverage suitable for use as a mixer.

It will now be possible for a man to literally pour himself a stiff one.

Obviously we can no longer call this a soft drink, and it gives new meaning to the names of 'cocktails', 'highballs' and just a good old-fashioned 'stiff drink'.

Pepsi will market the new concoction by the name of: MOUNT & DO.

Thought for the day: There is more money being spent on breast implants and Viagra today than on Alzheimer's research.

This means that by 2020, there should be a large elderly population with perky boobs and huge erections and absolutely no recollection of what to do with them.
